Missy Denard—Executive Director

It's not an exaggeration when I say 2016 was the most challenging year the ministry has faced since its inception. There were days – even weeks – when I considered quitting. It was simply that hard.

The enemy attacked at every level, but Jesus delivered gloriously and at just the right moment every single time. We stand poised to begin a new year, firm in the knowledge that through Christ all things are possible.

“And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are called according to His purpose.” – Romans 8:28

Special thanks to you all, who, through time, money, prayer and sacrifice allow these women to be new creations through Christ and New Beginnings – Big Country. We could not have done it without you.

Featured here are just a few highlights of 2016. As we journey through this year, we will continue to help these women become all that God intends them to be.
